Virtual Cities Ltd

Hi Tomas,

Thank you for sending me the links to your Milanote Boards for your Negotiated Project, working with the Virtual Cities project. It was very good to see the work you have accomplished for the tasks set. The boards were beautifully laid out, easy to navigate and really get a feel of the amount of research as well as modelling you have completed. Reading through each board and the sub cards, I am impressed by the logical process you have used, ensuring that you have recorded your sources and the decisions made where information has not been available. It is very thorough Tomas and really good to see at this level.

It has been a difficult project due to lack of evidence i.e. the building no longer exists, so there is a great deal more research required compared to a building that still exists. Knowing what to infer, the sources to use to make those informed decisions and then understanding the human element brings the images more to life, but more importantly, allows others to recognize the size and use of buildings. Many may have baulked at such a task, but you have tackled it really well, including learning and using software you weren't familiar with. Excellent work, Tomas, well done.

I know you still have a few things to finish, and I look forward to receiving the final files, once you are ready. I would be very happy to provide references should you need them in the future, and also hope you keep in touch with me for possible further Virtual Cities projects, including the ongoing project regarding Winchester 1400 & 1800.

Congratulations for getting this far with your degree, I wish you every success.

Best wishes

Debs
